

Ways to Share your Media Online or Display In-Person

In order to share content via a channel, page, or website that is public and not password-protected, you may need to purchase an Enhance Licensing Agreement for the specific curriculum or product you are using.

This agreement allows you to legally post, share, and stream content found in your curriculum and/or media package subscription to a public church-branded website, Facebook page, or YouTube channel. To learn how to add this license to your account, visit: <https://orangekidmin.com/sharemycontent/>

Here are some of the most popular common ways to share media online or in-person:

Playlister (AppleTV required)

With Playlister, you never have to download or upload your Orange curriculum. Their integration with Orange instantly syncs your content. Once you link your Orange account, you can:

- Build a playlist in seconds, removing the need to edit videos with complicated software.
- Give parents or volunteers one link to access everything they need to engage with the curriculum from anywhere.
- Send families a video experience with PDFs attached that they can view on any device.
- Share at church: Program all your church TVs with playlists that work without WiFi.

NOTE: Sharing media through Playlister does not require the Enhanced License Agreement.

Vimeo/YouTube (using a Roku, ChromeCast, Amazon Firestick, AppleTV)

If you have purchased the Enhanced License Agreement (ELA), you are able to upload and share media without restriction. If you have not purchased the ELA, you may only share media via private channels (email, Zoom meetings, Google Drive) and/or make them password protected. After your videos have been uploaded:

- Download the Vimeo or YouTube app (or go straight to the site from the browser if you have a SmartTV)

Ways to Share your Media Online or Display In-Person

- Log into your account
- Stream your videos straight from your TV

If you choose to pay for a monthly subscription, Vimeo even has a “playlist” option, where you can sort and organize your videos into folders and playlists so they will play in the order that you want them to.

NOTE: Using Orange media on YouTube, Vimeo or Facebook can sometimes cause your content to be flagged for copyright. This is not something Orange can control and must be handled between you and the host site.

Other In-Person Options

- Use a laptop or desktop computer connected to a projector/screen
- Use a laptop or desktop computer connected to a TV and HDMI cable
- Use an external media player with a USB connection. Load the videos on a USB and connect to your TV with an HDMI cable
- Use a DVD player with a USB connection
- Use a Smart TV with a USB connection
- Use our DVDs. Some elements of our media package are sold as a physical, stand-alone DVD product in the Orange store such as:
 - Wonder: monthly Preschool Bible stories
 - Feature Presentation: monthly Elementary Bible stories
 - Orange Kids Music: dance instructions
 - Group Studies
